Some homes surprise you with their size, while others impress with how they make the most of every space. This upper-floor bungalow, located in the San Luis Urbanization of Torrevieja, embodies precisely that: a compact, modern, and recently renovated home, designed to be enjoyed from day one. With 44 m² of living space, one bedroom, and one bathroom, it offers a practical layout with an open-plan kitchen and bright, airy rooms. The property has been recently renovated, including the kitchen, bathroom, and electrical wiring, and also features air conditioning, fiber optic internet, double-glazed windows, and a new water heater. The space that makes all the difference: its large solarium. But... (Ask for More Details!)
